1. At the Deputies' Meeting this morning, at which [REDACTED] was present, the problem of getting people to go to [REDACTED] was raised. [REDACTED] suggested that we might have a policy similar to that of the Department of the Army which, I understand, sends personnel to [REDACTED] for a ten month tour of duty, at the completion of which their families join them in [REDACTED] for another seven-month month.

2. [REDACTED] expressed an interest in this proposal but said that he thought there really would be no problem if families of personnel assigned to [REDACTED] could come as far as [REDACTED] where housing could be provided and employees could return periodically for brief visits. The Director expressed his desire to work out something along these lines.

3. Inasmuch as this would appear to be a matter of primary interest to your Office, I would suggest that you pursue it with appropriate officials of the DD/P area. I would be glad to be of any assistance.
